THE FIRST MIDWIFE OF WALLSBURG

1863 and on

The first midwife of Wallsburg was Polly Derby Mecham, wife of Ephraim Mecham. They were pioneers of 1852, crossing the plains of the USA and settled in Lehi until 1862.

At that time they moved to Weber County for a short time and then moved back to Provo, Utah. They soon moved to Wallsburg where she was a midwife and home doctor to many people and helped deliver over five hundred babies. She and her husband celebrated sixty-two years of marriage and the births of twelve children.
